To Whom It May Concern:

Mr. Julian Coto and I have been working together on water and sewer projects since before he started Excel Engineering Consultants, Inc. I have relied on his advice and that of his associates over the years in solving complex engineering and environmental compliance situations.

Together we have developed many unique wastewater treatment and potable water treatment techniques and designs that have been a cost savings for our utilities. Excel understands our business and the maze of environmental regulations and has saved us thousands of dollars in environmental compliance matters.

We continue to rely on Excel Engineering Consultants, Inc. for the future success of our operations in water and wastewater utilities.

Sincerely,
